

Call on professional in-home art consultation to give your home the "wow" factor.

"Many times it's not the pieces that they originally favoured in the showroom that they end up choosing to go on the wall."

Almis Mestrovic, co-owner of Caringbah's Artwork2U.

Free consultation

MANY home owners would love to adorn the walls of their home with eye-catching works of art, but have no idea where to start or what kind of artwork to choose.

It can be difficult to know which shape, colour, size and feel of artwork will bring you the most joy and work best with your space and existing decor.

That is why professionals can be so helpful.

Caringbah's Artwork2U offers a free home consultancy service that co-owner Almیس Mestrovic says has been demonstrably extremely popular with clients.

The business specialises in affordable decor art for homes and businesses.

"We have a showroom where people can purchase artworks directly," Ms Mestrovic said.

"And while we get people who are happy to come in and buy one piece - those who know exactly what they like and what size they need - many others are looking for numerous artworks for their entire home.

"In this case we'll offer them a free consultation," Ms Mestrovic said that clients could walk through the showroom with an Artwork2U staff member who could help them select artworks they liked and offer professional advice.

"We suggest that clients come in with photos of their decor or the wall they want the artwork on, bring measurements or explain to us what the space is like," Ms Mestrovic said.

"We also recommend that people choose two to four options for each wall, and not just one piece."

Staff members could then take the artworks out to clients' homes or businesses and hang the selection of artworks on the wall to give clients an idea of what looked best before they made the final choice.

Ms Mestrovic says this professional home consultation service is free for clients in St George and Sutherland Shire and helps them make the right choice the first time round.

"They see it in their own home and it helps them get the flow right," she said.

"We hold the pictures up for them so that they can decide what they like best."

Artworks in shades of red, orange and chocolate browns were popular at the moment, as were highly textured and metallic pieces, Ms Mestrovic said.
